Timmy Hill looks to make mark on West Coast

Rick Ware Racing's, Timmy Hill is looking forward to the long trip to Irwindale, California for his debut in the #99 Fuel Doctor USA Chevy in the NASCAR K&N Pro West Series.

Hill will enter the Toyota Speedway with a mission. Victory! After making his ARCA Remax Series debut at Salem Speedway this past April, many took notice the youngster's talent.

"Timmy adapted very well to a full bodied racecar in his debut," stated owner Rick Ware. "He unloaded fast and qualified 10th and was running in the Top 5 at Salem, which isn't the easiest track in the world before he was caught up in a wreck with a few laps remaining."

Hill has been very busy in between his ARCA debut and his upcoming K&N Pro West race. Tim is currently second in the Summer Shootout standings at Charlotte Motor Speedway in the Legends Series as he looks to defend his Championship from 2009.

“We have been racing quite a bit lately but I am looking forward to getting behind the RWR Fuel Doctor USA #99 this weekend. The car looks awesome and the team has gave me a great piece to race with once again,” stated the 17 year old.

Racing will begin on Saturday July 3rd at Toyota Speedway in Irwindale. The race will air on July 15th on the SPEED Channel.
